JOHN RILEY'S DEATH WAS CAUSED BY GAS

Supposed to Have Accidentally Turned on Deadly Fumes—Funeral at St. Patrick's Church Saturday.

John Riley, an old and respected resident of Janesville, passed away at the home of his son, Thomas, at Des Plaines, Ill., whither he had gone a week ago for a visit. Mr. Riley's death was particularly sad as he retired about nine o'clock Tuesday evening feeling in the best of spirits, for he was to leave Des Plaines on the first train the following morning to be in Janesville to spend Thanksgiving at his home 431 Franklin St. He requested his son the night before to call him early. On going to his father's room to call him, Thomas detected the odor of gas, and on reaching his father's bedside found him beyond all help. The doctor who was immediately summoned gave as his opinion that Mr. Riley had been dead about two hours. When found he was lying with his arms folded across his breast as if he were peacefully sleeping and passed away apparently without a struggle. How the accident really happened will never be known but it is supposed that it happened in the following manner. In the room in which Mr. Riley slept was a combination gas and electric light and it is thought that in turning off the electric light he accidentally turned on the gas as one of the burners was found open. Mr. Riley has been a resident of Janesville for about fifty-three years, and was well known and highly respected by all who knew him. He was employed for a number of years by the C. & N. W. R. R. until his falling night compelled him to resign that position. Of late he could scarcely see at all and recently underwent two unsuccessful operations for cataract yet, in spite of all this he was ever cheerful and happy and always ready to greet his friends with a smile and a kind word, and seemed to enjoy life to its fullest. His wife preceded him to the other world about seventeen years ago. He was a faithful member of St. Patrick's Church and a member of the Ancient Order of Hibernians since its organization in this city. He leaves to mourn his loss nine children, Thomas, of Des Plaines, Ill.; Mrs. Mary McDougal of Evanston, Ill.; William George and Rosa of Chicago, Edward of Milwaukee, Mrs. A. T. Baker, St. Francis Cal. and James and John B. of this city. He also leaves two sisters, Mrs. O. Kessner of St. Franklin St. and Mrs. D. Riley of Calumet, St. Ill. His funeral will take place from St. Patrick's church Saturday morning at nine o'clock.

GOLF CLUB PARTY PLEASANT AFFAIR
Fairly Large Number Attended Delightful Dance Given by Blinnissippi Golf Club.
About ninety couples enjoyed one of the most pleasant dances last evening at Assembly hall which the Blinnissippi Golf club has ever given. Dancing was begun about nine o'clock. Kroll's orchestra of seven pieces from Chicago, furnishing the music. Green and white festoons and streamers decorated the hall in a very pleasing manner and gave a summary appearance which was most effective. During the evening supper was served to a large number.
Many out of town guests were present, among them Miss Myers of Phillipsburg, Pa.; Mrs. D. K. Jaffra and son, Donald, of Chicago; William A. Jackson, Omaha, Neb.; Harold Hall, Chicago; Marion Perrington, Evansville; Mrs. Charles Milwaukee; Lawrence Pearl Baker, Chicago; Lawrence Ford, Milwaukee; Mr. and Mrs. Bert Fulkner, Chicago; Anson Mayhew, Milwaukee; Miss Charlotte Mount, Milwaukee; Victor Whitton, Chicago; John Shearer, Chicago, and Miss Marie Harton of Fond du Lac.
With the floor in the best condition it has been in this year and with some of the finest music obtainable the dance was a decided success and despite the fact that the club came out but five dollars ahead they were well satisfied with the efforts they had made.

Fire Department Responds to Call Sent From North Washington Street Residence—Damage Small.

The quiet of the fire department's holiday was broken yesterday by an alarm sent in from box 515 at the First Point at about three-thirty o'clock in the afternoon. The fire was at the home of Mrs. Mary Davis, 308 North Washington street, and the source was an overheated chimney which passed through the ceiling of the first floor into the second story. The blaze was extinguished with chemicals. The damage is confined to the floor and ceiling and the destruction of some bed clothing. It is estimated at from ten to fifteen dollars.

UNITED DOCTORS SECURE LOCATION

WILL OPEN JANESVILLE INSTITUTE SOON IN THE HAYES BUILDING.

THESE SPECIALISTS MAKE A GRAND OFFER FREE TO THE FIRST FEW PATIENTS ACCEPTED FOR TREATMENT.

Yesterday it was announced in these columns that the United Doctors had at last consented to establish one of their famous medical institutes in Janesville, and that it would be ready to receive patients soon. The board of directors have been looking about the city for some time for a suitable site upon which to erect a prominent home for the Janesville Institute, but have decided to postpone building until summer. The Janesville Institute will therefore be opened in a convenient downtown location. Several fine suites of rooms have been leased in the Hayes building, and this building will be occupied by the institute for the first year, or until a more suitable building can be purchased or erected for a permanent home for the institute. The building is one of the finest locations for a medical institute in Janesville. While it is convenient down town, easily accessible from all parts of the city, it is yet a location such as sick persons do not object to. The work of furnishing and equipping the new institute is being pushed as rapidly as possible and it is hoped that patients can be received for treatment the early part of next week.

The equipment of a United Doctors Institute is an elaborate one, many microscopes, test tubes, etc., etc., and a large number of instruments are to be found there. They use powerful microscopes, test tubes, etc., etc., besides a number of instruments used only by members of the staff of United Doctors, the use of which is little known to other doctors. One of the secrets of success of these specialists in curing diseases is their expert knowledge of medical diagnosis. So complete is their knowledge of the human body that often times by the aid of their wonderful instruments, they are able to diagnose a case, describing and locating every ache and pain without asking the patient a single question.

The treatment used by the United Doctors is non-surgical. They never use the knife, never mutilate the body which God built in His own image. Only the best and purest of drugs and chemicals are used by these specialists, their motto being that every sick person is entitled to the best medicine that can be found, no matter how expensive. To obtain pure drugs they prepare all of their own medicines in their own laboratory and every patient is thus assured a pure medicine, the best obtainable regardless of cost.

The instruments used in diagnosis and the extreme care in securing pure drugs and preparing them specially for each case, make the United Doctors more expensive than ordinary treatment, yet owing to the large number of patients treated it is possible to place the price of treatment within the reach of all.

Dr. Elston, the venerable old physician who will be in personal charge of the Janesville Institute, is one of the oldest specialists in the United Doctors' staff and one of the directors of the association. Dr. Elston announces that in order to introduce this wonderful new system of medicine in Janesville he desires to secure a few supposedly incurable cases at once and in order to secure a large number of different cases quickly, so that he can cure them at once and thus prove to the public the wonderful curative power of this new system of treatment, he will cure the first few cases absolutely free of charge until they are well. Examination will be free, and treatment will be free, the only charge made will be for medicine. In cases of very poor people the medicines will be furnished free also.

This is really a very remarkable offer by these great specialists. It is not an offer of free treatment for a few weeks, but free treatment until well regardless of the length of time. This offer is good only in cases accepted for treatment until December 20. After that date full regular fees will be charged to all.

Consultation and examination is free to all, but only curable cases will be accepted for treatment. If your case is incurable you will be told so and not one penny of your money accepted. However, many cases that are incurable by old methods can be quickly cured by this wonderful new treatment of the United Doctors.

The date of opening the new institute will be announced tomorrow or the next day.

Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Kelly and children of Beloit sent Thanksgiving the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Newton, 466 North Main street.

BOWLING ASSOCIATION
READY FOR TOURNAMENT

Des Moines is Mecca for Bowlers From Larger Cities in the West for Matches Saturday.

(Special to this Gazette.)
Des Moines, Ia., Dec. 1.—Tenth night's balling from as far west as Cincinnati and from as far east as Denver are trooping into Des Moines in anticipation of the opening tomorrow of the fifth annual tournament of the Middle West Bowling Association. The local preparations for the event are perfected to the smallest detail. The tournament will run nine days and unless all signs are misleading it will be by far the most successful ever pulled off by the association. Teams and individual bowlers are entered from Chicago, St. Louis, Kansas City, Omaha, Minneapolis, St. Paul, Rock Island, Davenport, Sioux City, Topeka and a number of other cities. Opinions expressed by the delegates already in the city indicate that President George Strotz of Des Moines and the other officers of the association will be re-elected at the annual business meeting. St. Louis, Sioux City and Kansas City will bid for next year's tournament.

Ladies' Society of German Church Start Fund for Cyclone Sufferers With $90—Other News.

(Special to this Gazette.)
Edgerton, Nov. 30.—While the people of Edgerton have been slow in making contributions to the relief fund of the recent cyclone sufferers the town is ever on the map and with open heart and willing hands is ever ready to respond to those in need or distress. The Ladies' society of the German church, as an illustration, set the ball in motion and contributed $90, and to make the amount an even $100, Mrs. Alfred of Nowville, who also is a member of the society, gave $10. The amount was forwarded yesterday. The work of collecting still continues. Postmaster Melnick having taken the matter in hand, and the business men and citizens are contributing freely.

"THE CHORUS LADY."

George Ade is not the only illustrator of stage language. There is James Forbes who equals him at writing the libretto of Toughland and excels at utilizing it in a play. The "The Chorus Lady" which comes to the Myers theatre on Friday, Dec. 1, is full length play as emotional as Mrs. Pake or Mrs. Carter, but with a flatter diction still of the melodramatic. Patricia O'Brien doesn't lose promises; however, even though she is a chorus girl, for she is wise to the game, cuts the Johnny Joker out of the pack, deals the cards straight and plays them to win out with a husband for keeps. The play comes here with a record of one whole year in New York, nine months in Chicago, six months in London and six months in Boston and with practically the same cast that appeared in those cities.

Johannesburg's Population.
As the boom town of Africa Johannesburg has set a new mark. The last census shows a population of 240,000 in the municipal area, which six years ago contained 155,000. Of the present population slightly more than half, 122,000, are white, 105,000 black and 13,000 Asiatic. The contest between Algiers and Johannesburg for the laurels as the largest European city of Africa is still very close. The census of March of this year showed that of a population of 170,000 the French city counted less than 40,000 natives, but in the remaining 130,000 were included at least a dozen thousand naturalized Algerian Jews.

WHERE THE GOLD GOES.

That the country is absorbing more gold each year is true, but the gold is not going into the form of money. More than a third of the total production of new gold now goes into the arts and manufactures, or "industrial consumption," as it is technically termed.

Ten years ago the proportion put to this use was only about one-fifth of the total production, or $18,000,000, while last year the amount was $34,000,000, or nearly double that of ten years ago, leaving $22,000,000 for coinage and other purposes. As the balance for the first year of the decade was $60,000,000, it is seen that increased production had added very little to the amount available for coinage.

As a fact, $260,000,000 worth of the yellow metal has been diverted to industrial uses, which accounts for about the whole excess of the yield between 1901, when it stood at $78,000,000, and 1910, when it had risen to $260,000,000. It can be seen, of course, that the diversion of the $260,000,000 mentioned has added an average of $26,000,000 a year to the cost of living, but, on the other hand, it might be urged with equal cogency that keeping it out of the coinage had the effect of keeping the gold dollar from becoming still "cheaper."—Washington Post.

Fear has been expressed that gold would become so plentiful that it could no longer be used as the world's standard of value, but there is no occasion for alarm. The wild-cat schemes for securing gold from the black sand washed up by the sea, accomplished its purpose by furnishing an outlet for a lot of money that was waiting for some smooth promoter. The circulation of this kind of money is what makes "the wheels go round," but it adds nothing to the supply of gold.

GOOD FOR BELLOTT.

That definite and decisive action must be taken in a short time—probably within a year—to limit the number of saloons in Beloit and to increase the license fee, was the statement made last night by several aldermen in a convention before the special council meeting took place.

The discussion was brought about, it is understood, by the fact that another application for a license is now before the license committee—the applicants being foreigners, employed in the city. It is understood the applicants wish to open a saloon in the vacant room in the broader block in State street.

Although the question was talked over in an informal fashion last night, several of the aldermen favored the plan soon to be adopted in Iowa, according to a law passed by the last legislature of having only one saloon for every 1,000 population. In Sioux City, where there are now over one hundred saloons, this new law will bring the number down to forty-nine, as there are 49,000 inhabitants in the city. A license fee of $2,000 is to be charged each of the saloons and it is stated that the applicants will be eager to pay the fee.

Under the Sioux City plan, Beloit would have at the present time, fifteen saloons. It was suggested last night that a license fee of $1,000 should be exacted from each applicant. This, from the Beloit Daily News, indicates that the Lino City is working along the right lines. The Iowa law on regulation is among the best in the land and well worth copying. Des Moines, with a population of 108,000 has one hundred saloons, which run without serious, close at ten o'clock, and pay a license of $1,000. The National Brewers Association recommended that the basis of apportionment be fixed at not less than one saloon for every five hundred inhabitants. Public sentiment in any town ought to be willing to meet the brewers half way.

Janesville has all the saloons that the law will allow on a basis of two hundred and fifty, and applications are on file to be granted as soon as a few more babies are born to increase the population.

The temperance sentiment is strong in Beloit than in Janesville, but it ought to be possible for either city to adopt and enforce wholesome regulation.

'STILL THEY COME.

Lawrence, Mass.—The city will have a commission government like that of Lynn—a mayor and four aldermen and a school committee consisting of the mayor and four others.

Lowell, Mass.—The city will have a commission government, consisting of a council of five members, of whom the mayor is one, and a school committee of five members.

Lexington, Ky.—The city voted to adopt the commission form of government two years hence.

Freemont, Mich.—In its first municipal election Freemont adopted the commission form of government, seventy-three voting against it.

Manhattan, Kan.—It is a three-to-one vote Manhattan has adopted the commission form of government.

Sacramento, Cal.—Sacramento stepped into the ranks of cities having the commission form of government as a result of the municipal election. The new charter was adopted by a majority of sixty-eight out of a total vote of more than eight thousand. Mayor M. H. Board, democrat, was re-elected with a plurality of three hundred and seventy-four over Allen W. Stuart, socialist. He will serve until the new charter takes effect, which will be next July.

Janesville is simply waiting for somebody to start the ball rolling. The people are ready for it.

"My happiness is not dependent on holding any office; I shall go back to private life with no heart burnings if the people, after an unprejudiced review of my administration, conclude that some one else can serve them to their greater advantage."

This paragraph introduces a review of President Taft's administration by himself to be published in the next issue of the "Outlook." In speaking of his Winona speech, which has caused so much criticism, he says that it was hastily prepared between stations, which is responsible for physiology which might have been changed without changing the sentiment.

The ladies of Reedsburg have harassed themselves in the Rock county suitors, and a box of bedding has been packed and is now on the way for distribution. "The heart of humanity is very much alike the country over, and it is gratifying to know that generous impulses and practical sympathy respond so cheerfully to human needs." The Pythian sisters of Reedsburg are the donors in this instance, and they may be assured that their work will be appreciated.

The Baptist Sunday School is planning to give ten families in the storm swept district, a Merry Christmas. That's the kind of work which brings a double blessing. If other schools in the city would do the same, every stricken family would be made to rejoice on Christmas morning. The Gazette had a list of these people and a history of their former condition.

Colonel Roosevelt is being severely criticized by some of his old-time friends for his attitude toward the President and his administration, as well as for some inconsistencies in dealing with the steel company and other large corporations, near the close of his second term. The Colonel is under some obligation to President Taft, which he can not afford to ignore.

ON THE SPUR OF THE MOMENT

IT'S A PROBLEM. Ah! she'll talk to be informed how 'tis some fellows got along.

Day nayah does a stroke of work an' life am jes' one grand sweet song.

Day always has the clo's to wear an' fix demselves up mighty neat.

Jes' fo' to stand around all day an' watch folks go by on de street.

Day nayah seems to worry none. Expenses seem to cut no lee.

An' when a show troupe comes along day always seem to have de price.

Ah knows of one, a frien' ob mine. Ah set right next to him in school.

From all appearances it seemed he wasn't far short of a fool.

But he kin go for leebun months an' never do no weik at all.

They wear new suits to fit de styles they ad'vance each spring end fall.

Er ah tried to go lohen days without no weik. Ah sholy know.

Without the slightest kind of doubt, Ah'd simply starve to death, fo' sho.

Seems lak de ones what does de mos' has always got de mos' to do.

An' dem what wasn't bo'n to weik can simply loaf their whole life through.

Tah't no fair shake, dat much Ah know.

Ah'd like to see it straightened out.

Ah kin't quite dope it out myself.

but seems lak some professor mount 't would be interwin' thing to ventilate, you will allow.

Ah ain't got time to figger it. Dar goes dat factory whistle now.

INTemperance in the barn-YARD.

Indulgence in wine has long been a characteristic of the French, but it seems as though the latest plan of M. Joubert, professor of agriculture at Fontainebleau, exceeds the speed limit to a considerable extent. As told in the Dispatch, he is experimenting with the hen, and in order to increase the output of eggs, he has been mixing wine with their daily rations. The fowls that have been thus wine-splashed nobly and have laid many more eggs than they ever did before. It is not known what effect the eggs laid by these intoxicated hens will have upon the people who eat them, but there will doubtless be a great demand for the champagne eggs and the French hen owners will have a very decided advantage.

From a moral standpoint, however, the scheme is all wrong. Nothing could be more distressing to the sight than a barnyard full of incubated hens, preening and looking for a hump just to hang to. The hen up to this time has been a model of behavior and has spent all her time looking after the needs of her numerous families. A hen with a sentimental jar is apt to forget her home duties and wander about while her brood of little ones are left to scratch for themselves at a very tender age.

Steps should be taken to save the hen and to preserve her dignity. Next thing the Frenchman will have her smoking cigarettes.

WILL HUNT WOMEN IN NORTH WOODS.

From the Athens, Mich. Times: "Our neighboring village of Sherwood produces some women hunters, five having taken out licenses and gone to the North woods hunting."

THESE MUST MAKE ANANIAS JEALOUS.

"Your punchon, Mrs. Jones, was the most charming I ever attended." "My wife lets me smoke anywhere I want to."

"How well you are looking, my dear, I was telling my husband just the other day that you seem to be growing younger every year. Few women do that."

"What a love of a gown Myrtilla. It looks as though it came from Paris and as you like a glove."

"Never in my life, Hank, did a bill collector call on me. None of that for me."

ACCORDING TO UNCLE ABNER.

A man doesn't get anything in this world unless he asks for it. When he asks for it he is liable to get everything, especially if he asks for hash.

It was so cold here Thursday morn'g that the steam froze into a straight column when they blew the whistle at the stove mill and they had to climb up and chop it off with an ax.

Since Miss Amy Stubbs has had that new blond trimmer from down to the city work in her millinery store, Grandpa Hibbins says jekah! to the arguments. It is but a hard to tell whether the country is being saved or is going to the dogs. He will probably find out that neither argument is correct.

There may be other ways of making a living beside workin' for it or living with your wife's folks, but none of 'em have ever been discovered.

Uncle Ezra Beets has got a great nibbl. He wears long flowing whiskers and nobody ever thinks of giving him any Christmas nockles.

Nehemiah Rebuilds the Wall of Jerusalem, Neh. iv.

Golden Text—Watch you, stand fast in the faith, quit you like men, be strong, I Cor. xvi, 13.

(1.) Verse 1—What progress had been made up to this time in rebuilding the wall of Jerusalem, and how had the work been done?

(2.) What right had Sanballat to object to building the wall, and why did he do it?

(3.) What did they expect to accomplish by mocking at, and jeering the Jews?

(4.) Can you give any instances where mocking and ridicule have stopped a good work, or ruined a good life?

(5.) Verses 2-3—What is it in human nature which makes individuals jealous of individuals, towns of towns, and countries of countries?

(6.) When a man is down, do the human influences around him tend to keep him down, or help him up? Why?

(7.) Which gets the more hurt from scorn, the scorner or the scorned, and why?

(8.) What influences did the ridicule of Sanballat, and Tobiah, have on the work upon the wall?

(9.) If one is true to God does the devil mostly hurt or help him, in his life and work?

(10.) Verses 4-6—Is any experience that will give us the opportunity to pray, and to test God's power to be regretted?

(11.) Should the prayer of Nehemiah that God would not forgive them, but that they might suffer for their sins, be imitated by us? Give your reasons.

(12.) Verses 7-8—What reasons are there to believe that those who are jealous of the prosperity of others, will not stop short of actual violence to accomplish their evil desires, if they can do so with safety to themselves?

(13.) Verse 9—What are two effective things we may always do, when we are surrounded by enemies?

(14.) Is prayer without watching, or watching without prayer, of any avail, if we have the opportunity to do both?

(15.) Verses 10-12—Which, as a rule, does the more injury the opposition of enemies, or the pessimistic discouragement of friends?

(16.) Verses 13-14—What effect did the threat of his enemies, and the wall of his own countrymen, have upon Nehemiah?

(17.) How often is a determined man with God on his side liable to be defeated in things he undertakes?

(18.) Verse 15—What factor is courage alone, in winning life's battles? (This is one of the questions that may be answered in writing by members of the club.)

(19.) Verses 16-23—In how many senses is a Christian under obligation to fight and to build all the time?

(20.) Why may we rely on God fighting our battles for us, if we fight and work with Him?

STATE VS. ALBERT DORSEY DISMISSED

Alleged Trouser Thief Let Go Because Complaints Canceled
That Evidence Was Insufficient.

The case of the state against Albert Dorsey, charged with the theft of a pair of trousers from James Dilan, of the town of La Prairie, was dismissed this morning on the motion of District Attorney Stanley Lawler, who appeared for the state. The complaint decided that the evidence against Dorsey was not sufficient to warrant the prosecution. The trousers were not found on Dorsey's person or in his possession.
A sentence of imprisonment was imposed upon him about a year ago, when he pleaded guilty to a petty offense, but Judge Elfield suspended it on condition that he leave the state and stay out. He was reintroduced to his promise this morning but protested that he did not intend to stop here, but was put off a train on which he was traveling. Since he left Janesville he has been staying in Chicago and Davenport. Dorsey promised to leave town at once and Judge Elfield withheld sentence on him.

MANY CANDIDATES TAKE ADVANTAGE OF THIS PERIOD IN CAMPAIGN

Unsolicited Subscriptions Find Their Way to Campaign Department—Are They Coming From Your Neighborhood?

One candidate informed the campaign manager yesterday that she had obtained two new subscriptions for The Gazette but it was simply impossible for her to locate them.

A few hours after this lady had left the office for The Gazette to be delivered to him home for one year and he was a new subscriber. When asked if he wished the votes he stated that no candidate had called at his house, consequently he knew nothing about the proposition.

The fact that this gentleman was not informed regarding this great automobile campaign is not so exceptional but in obtaining his address, the campaign manager noted that he lived in the same block as the candidate who had stated she simply could not locate new subscribers.

This incident is only one of the many that leads the campaign manager to believe that each candidate has plenty of neighbors who have never been asked to take The Gazette.

It is well for each candidate to obtain subscriptions in territory outside of her district but each candidate should make sure that all her neighbors have been called upon. Give every subscription in your immediate vicinity, then go into the other candidate's territory.

The Gazette is recognized in Janesville's foremost daily. Due to its adequate news service, including the latest wire of the Associated Press and other special news features, it is not surpassed by any other daily in the state.

The subscription rate is so very low that no home can afford to be without The Gazette.

Subscriptions Books. Candidates and their friends are privileged to accept payments on subscriptions and in order that they may receive for such payments we will provide them with a receipt book if they will inform the campaign department.

Weekly Gazette. Any subscriber now taking the Weekly Gazette may by paying up their arrearages on the weekly start The Daily Gazette and all such subscriptions will be classed as New Daily subscribers and votes issued accordingly.

Open Evenings. For the benefit of those who can not call during regular office hours, the campaign department will remain open until 8 p. m. each week day evening.

Pure Ideals Would Eliminate Divorce

By Rev. HERBERT MCCONNELL
Pastor of Sixth Memorial Church,
Grand Rapids, Mich.

"TEXT—And the Lord said unto Moses, 'Wherefore thou criest out me? Speak to the children of Israel that they go forward.'"

In the Christian life there is little promised that is easy. Men are continually being put to the test. Often men are placed in hard places, where the burden is found to be heavy. Moses was now carrying a heavy burden. He had led the children of Israel from bondage to freedom. Now it looked as though they would be taken back to bondage again. The thought of this was weighing heavily on Moses, and he cried unto God. The answer was: "Speak thou unto the children of Israel that they go forward." Because of the passing years the words have not lost their meaning. But in a larger sense they are being applied today.

The message of God to men is "Forward." It would be a shame for the present generation to be in the same degree of enlightenment as the generation that has just passed. We today have the accumulated thought which has led to the degree of enlightenment. As we have found so much the responsibility is laid upon us to move forward so that we by our lives will not retard the march of civilization. The Christian should ever have his or her face forward ready to march at any and all times.

We are placed into such a beautiful world one would think it would be hard for the children of men not to think of God. But we are forced to believe that there are many people who think very little of him who have given so much for us to enjoy. The great, broad fields bearing their precious fruits, the precious stones found in the bowels of the earth, the great forests furnishing the timbers for our great buildings and ships, the great mountain peaks.

All these things should remind us of God and his goodness and cause us to think much of him. The beauty of the sunrise and the glory of the setting thereof, the beauty of the stars, the songs of the birds, the lightning flash, all reveal to us the greatness of God. How strange that men can pass on with so little thought of God, who has been so kind and good.

The question we hear often is, "How much will you give?" By that question we mean how much will I get. We are very anxious about how much we will get. Ought it not, be how much can I give? In this way we are backward. Suppose that the Apostle Paul had asked how much he was to have received for each journey he undertook. Would we have the privilege of reading of the church at Philippi, Corinth and many other places? If Martin Luther had asked how much he was to receive for the work he was doing would we be honoring him today? The fact is this, that the men and women who accomplished most for the world have been most unselfish. They have put themselves into the great work and their influence has lived.

Too many people are not familiar with the Bible. This will apply to both those who belong to our churches and those who have not yet identified themselves with the church. There is a great lack in our knowledge of the Bible. If the Bible is our guide through this life, surely we ought to become familiar with that which we depend upon. Mr. Moody used to say, "look out in nature and see the hand of God. Look into the Bible and see God face to face." Some time ought to be given each day in reading the Bible, not that we ought to see how much we can cover at a glance, but how much we can understand of its contents.

We are surrounded every day how important it is to live pure. If the pure life was the ideal, how much wrongdoing would be corrected. If the couple standing at the marriage altar would have the pure life as their ideal would it not lessen the number of divorces? Would we not have better homes? Would there not be fewer children to care for in the homes of charity? If the pure life was the ideal would we not have better society? How our churches would be filled with devoted men and women who are anxious to worship God—men and women who would be anxious to take a class in the Sunday school and faithfully each Sunday stand before their classes teaching the things of purity and God! Realizing that the greatest of all things are the things which can be given for the sake of those who are here by our side, the opportunity for labor is great and the field is wide.

Harmony.

Eloquence, poetry, painting, sculpture and architecture are like the five fingers of the human hand. Each is harmonized and vitalized by music which is the blood of all the branches. Every technique of these arts is toned and timed in tones of music.—Rev. Dr. F. W. Gunnealus, Baptist, Chicago.

No Victory Without Struggle.

There is no victory without a struggle. There is no painless holiness. The insipid, effortless life is not of God. That man is poor indeed who does not have to be saved by grace and have nothing himself to do.—Rev. R. C. Stone, Presbyterian, Denver.

Officers Get Their Share.

The salaries of England's corporation and public company officials total over $315,000,000 a year.

HOGS AND CATTLE CONTINUE HIGHER

Excellent Mexican Shrimps.
The shrimps from the coast of the Gulf of Mexico are of good size, generally fully three inches in length and frequently exceeding this measurement. They are much larger than those caught on the West coast and the north Atlantic coast of the United States. They are in fine condition the year round and may be caught in the lagoons any season of the year without fear of interruption by northern, at least not for more than a day or so during any time of the year.

Separated by Wide Gulf.
Immortal gods! How much does one man excel another! What a difference there is between a wise person and a fool!—Terence.

Sporting Note.
A deep crimson color, spread over town at night under certain conditions, becomes a dark-brown one the following morning.

Yuan "Showed" the Boxers. An incident of the Boxer rebellion when Yuan Shi-Kai, now in supreme command of China's army and navy, was viceroy of Chili gives a suggestion of his quality. A number of the Boxer chiefs of his province came to ask him to take part in the leadership of their movement. As an inducement they assured him that it was impossible that the movement should fail, because the Boxers were possessed of a magic which made them invulnerable to foreign bullets. Expressing great interest in this invulnerability, Yuan invited them to an excellent dinner. When they had dined he declared that it would be a very simple matter to test the invulnerability, because his soldiers were equipped with foreign guns. He thereupon conducted his guests to the courtyard, stood them up against a wall, and with a company of his own soldiers, armed with foreign rifles, made a convincing test of the matter. Strange to say, not a single Boxer proved invulnerable.—The Outlook.

Got Out First Patent. The Rev. of American woman inventors was Mary Kies, who in 1809 obtained a patent for "straw weaving in silk or thread." Twenty-one other women have since been granted patents, according to the official list.

Woman's Fairy Foot?
The mother of a family was grieving over the size of her daughter's feet. For indeed Cinderella's distinctive charm seems to have departed with the tiny rosy mouth once necessary to feminine perfection. The little foot with the arched instep was very fascinating, one of the most romantic of fair ladies' graces, yet the short, narrow frocks and low buckled shoes of this season have revealed very clearly its practical extinction. Do shoemakers still stock "twon" except for children? Even the "four" is growing rare, and girls take "fives," "sixes" and "sevens" without blushing. As women are bigger, their feet must be bigger, and if in the future they are to be equal to men in everything, also, one supposes the size of their boots will have to be included. If woman's fairy foot becomes a myth, as her stature waxes so much higher than man's, what is to happen to the poets? Perhaps they also will presently be history, since nobody reads poetry nowadays.

How to Keep Young.
Some women attain to a graceful old age by adopting the following rules: Forget disagreeable things, keep your nerves well in hand and inflict them on no one; master the art of saying pleasant things; do not expect too much from your friends; make whatever work that comes to you congenial; retain your illusions and don't believe all the world wicked and unkind; relieve the miserable and sympathize with the sorrowful. These few rules will, at least, make the world seem brighter to yourself and others.

Have to Hustle for It.
"Opportunity knocks occasionally at every man's door," said Uncle Eben; "but if you sit around in de rockin' chair waitin' for it you're pretty sure to fall asleep an' miss it."

COMMON SENSE CURE FOR RHEUMATISM.

Rheumatism has for ages been a puzzle to the doctors. Some claim it to be an infection, a germ disease. Others claim that the cause is uric acid, a kidney disease. It is said that uric acid is carried by the blood into the small capillaries of the joints and skin where it crystallizes and it is the small, sharp crystals that cause the pain by cutting into the flesh and nerves. Whatever the cause, the best relief known is an Alkaline Lixir of the Salylates. The chemical nature of the Salylates is to form soluble compounds with the urates. In this way these crystals are dissolved, taken up by the blood and taken out of the body by the kidneys. This rheumatic Lixir is taken in teaspoonful doses in hot water before meals. The cure is often in a day or two, yet the remedy should be taken for some time to thoroughly neutralize the blood and prevent a recurrence of the trouble. The elimination, as the doctors would say, that is the kidneys and the bowels, should be kept active. Rheumatic Lixir is compounded by Mr. Pfannig, our Graduate Pharmacist and Chemist, who would be pleased to give you any other information you wish. Sold at 50c. Badger Drug Co., Milwaukee and River St., the drug store that makes a specialty of drugs.

HEART AND HOME TALKS BY BARBARA BOYD

What Do You Talk About?

NEXT to eating and sleeping, the most common practice the human family is addicted to is talking. We spend a great part of our time in merely talking. But do we ever stop to think, if we talk to any purpose whatever? Is our conversation fruitful of good results, is it simply a waste of time, or worse yet, does it really do harm?

To be sure, one does not want to measure everything he does by dollars and cents. He wants to loaf, sometimes to be foolish and nonsensical. But we can take a little mental review of our talking without looking at it from a mercenary point of view. And to loaf and be light-hearted has also its value.

To begin with, talking expends a certain amount of nerve force. We can't talk for a long while without feeling physically tired. If we talk to a friend for several hours, we are pretty sure to experience a sense of exhaustion, unless we have unusual vitality. Now if we expend this force, we ought to get something for it. We do not want to drain ourselves for nothing, to show an absolutely empty treasury when the hours spent in talking are gone. Yet that is what some of us would have to admit were we honest about it.

When we spend hours in the merest chit-chat or gossip, we are draining our vitality to no purpose. The talk of the weather, of our neighbors' doings, of the petty trivial incidents of the day's work, is all waste. Worse yet, it sometimes recalls unpleasant incidents, and we again go through mentally all the irritation and fret of their first happening. And this is wear and tear on our mentality that is absolutely without value.

Sometimes our talk is decidedly harmful. When we discuss at length our diseases and ailments, we are apt not only to produce in ourselves again the very state we are describing, but we may affect our hearers. Physicians are today recognizing such a thing as psychic contagion, and the minute description of harrowing sufferings or operations is being quietly tabooed. The woman who details these things is no longer welcome. One well-known physician has gone so far as to say that the constant discussion by a sufferer of ailments, together with his brooding over them, will lead to insanity.

It would seem then that it is worth while to give some thought to what we talk about. Light, bright conversation, even if it have no particular purpose, is inspiring. Conversation about the big things that are being done in the world is inspiring. Talk has much the effect upon ourselves and those about us that the reading of some newspapers has. Papers that simply detail horrible murders and thefts and accidents, and trivial inconsequential events, leave us with either a sensation of depression, or with the feeling that the world is doing little worth while; whereas, the papers that give scant space to such things but which play up the fine big things humanity is doing, inspire us, fill us with energy, and a desire to do something of value ourselves. Our conversation ought to radiate this same atmosphere of energy and inspiration. It will help us and it will help others. And if we are not always up to this pitch, let us at least be bright and cheery in our talk, and leave the feeling of sunshine. For this, too, is worth while.

But to simply babble is as useless and as wasteful as to sit for hours as some men do gazing out of a window and humming, "Tum-tum, tum-tum," while their eyes see nothing, and their brains think nothing. These lots more fun to be got out of living than by indulging in any such practices.

Barbara Boyd.

The Evening Chit-Chat

BY RUTH CAMERON

ONE girl confided a secret to another. A third girl wished to know the secret and asked the second girl to tell her. The girl refused and the curious one teased. Finally, the confidante said in desperation, "Ask Gretchen yourself. I am sure she will tell you if she wants you to know."

At once the curious one went to Gretchen and said, "Nolly said that you would tell me yourself."

"Why, I never said any such thing," protested Gretchen. "How could she have told you so? I think it was abominable of her, when I trusted and confided in her."

Whereupon a fine three-sided quarrel was well under way. And the whole cause was simply an instance of that careless reporting, which I firmly believe causes half of the misunderstandings, disagreements and broken friendships in the world.

That was a case where a statement was actually heeded, but we all know how much more intonation or inflection can change the meaning of the simplest sentence.

Probably you remember the passage in Middlemarch, where Lydgate appeals to his wife to help him get out of the debts into which her extravagance has helped to plunge him? Rosamond's reply is perfectly heartless, but the heartlessness is wholly in inflection. "What can I do, Tertius?" Rosamond's thin little voice, like so many others in all languages, is capable of expressing all states of mind, from helpless dimness to exhaustive argumentative passion, from the completest self-devoting fellowship to the most neutral aloofness. Rosamond's thin intonation throw into the words, "What can I do?" as much neutrality as they could hold.

Now suppose some partisans of Rosamond were telling of Lydgate's unjustifiable wrath with his wife and were to repeat that passage. How easily in his report the "What can I do?" might become the most eager and loving offer of help from a devoted wife.

Haven't you often heard some one repeat a conversation, at which you yourself had been present and been amused and astonished at the wholesale inaccuracies, both of spirit and letter, in the report?

I do not think the repeated word, is ever to be fully trusted, no matter how excellent the intentions of the reporter. Surely never to be trusted to the detriment or prejudice of the person who is the author of the speech.

Even the written word is an untrustworthy medium for conveying one's feelings. It needs the interpretation and supplement of accent, look and gesture.

Robert Louis Stevenson recounts, "Not long ago, I wrote a letter to a friend which came near involving us in a quarrel, but we met and in personal talk I repeated the worst of what I had written, added worse to that, and with the commentary of the body, it seemed not unfriendly either to say or to hear."

We all know that to communicate one thought correctly to another, is not the easiest thing in the world. Even speaking directly to our friend, we may offend him when there is not the slightest intention of offense in the hour.

Considering this and how vastly more uncertain a medium are repeated or written words, it certainly seems to me that the fairest, safest thing to do is to make an invariable rule to disregard them as matter for offense.

Don't you think so?

UP-TO-DATE HOUSEKEEPING.

Perfectly Cooked Plain Fare Pleases Everybody. Old Apple Pie.

By Alice E. Whitaker

Many a man sits down to a sumptuous banquet as the honored guest of the occasion who secretly longs for the plainer fare of his more obscure days. At other times, whenever too many eyes are not bent upon him, he selects some of the old standbys or the easily digested of his better well-cooked. The President's appreciation of a certain kind of apple pie illustrated the firm hold of old fashioned dishes on the person who has enjoyed them.

One member of the present Cabinet appears to enjoy nothing better for luncheon than a plate of corned beef hash, a generous piece of apple pie and cup of freshly drawn tea. It is well known that apple pie is the favorite Congressional dessert with pumpkin pie a close second while many take old fashioned creamy rice pudding baked a long time. One multi-millionaire names as his favorite meal, steak, creamed potatoes and cream of tartar biscuit, while another asks for no better dessert than two pieces of custard pie, and his wife prefers ginger bread and curaway cookies.

When an enterprising woman opens a tea room her success is seldom built on fancy dishes but on such things as a fine gingerbread or superior sandwiches or rolls or her perfectly made tea and chocolate. Some country lads enjoy a patronage built on the reputation of always providing good steak and ham and eggs. A large club in Boston for years considered as an important item in its lunch menu individual portions of hash browned and folded like an omelet.

At a certain New York club one of the most prized desserts is a thick apple pie. It is made of good growing apples pared, sliced rather thick and piled three inches deep in a paste lined plate. Over it is sprinkled enough vanilla flavoring, ground cinnamon and grated lemon peel to give a slight flavoring and two cups of sugar are scattered over. This pie is usually baked without any cover although occasionally it has a top crust brushed over with egg and sprinkled with chopped almonds. It takes one and one half hours in a moderate oven to bake this pie which is served when barely cool.

For what reason an Ohio apple pie received its name is not clear but it is baked in a deeper plate than usual. Line the plate with good paste and fill with apples pared, pared and sliced. Put in one tablespoon of water and cover with rich paste. Bake until the apple is tender, take from the oven and lift off the top crust carefully with two bread knives. Mash the apple with a silver spoon, add sugar to sweeten as much as needed by the kind of apples used, a rounding tablespoon of butter and a few gratings of nutmeg. Lay the top crust back and serve the pie before it is quite cool.

Do not think that an apple pie must always be seasoned in just the same way unless you have one of those ultra conservative families that is not offered in the stereotyped form. One of the latest fresh apple pies is seasoned with a few thin shavings of salt pork laid over the sliced apple. These entirely disavow the baking and leave a peculiar appetizing flavor.

Use nutmeg occasionally or cinnamon a small amount of allspice or ground cloves grated lemon peel or put curaway seeds in stewed and sliced apple if you would be very old fashioned. One cook often adds two or three teaspoons of moderately strong tea to her pies with good result.

Another fine apple pie is called a Hamburg pie. Pare core and cut ten medium sized apples into slices. Put into a fireless cooker and sprinkle on one cup of brown sugar and half a teaspoon of grated nutmeg, a few gratings of yellow rind of lemon, a saltspoon of salt, two teaspoons of lemon juice and add a level teaspoon of butter. Put in one-quarter cup of water and let cook four or five minutes.

Line a deep plate with rich paste fill with the apple being careful not to break it and cover with a crust. Bake in a hot oven because the filling is already cooked and when barely cool cover with confectioner's sugar moistened with just enough water to make it spread easily over the surface forming a icing. Do not substitute any other kind of sugar.

VARIOUS STEWS.

Stews may be made of the cheaper cuts of meat and with different seasonings to vary the flavor, a great variety may be had.

Spanish Stew.—Cut a small piece of meat into pieces and try out in a saucpan. Add one and a fourth pounds of chuck cut in small pieces. Cook until well browned, then add a little water and simmer until tender. Add a third of a can of tomatoes, one small onion, a bay leaf and salt and pepper. Thicken with flour that has been browned.

Irish Stew.—Take one and a half pounds of the neck of beef, cut in pieces an inch square, place in a saucpan in which a little meat has been fried out; add a slice of onion and brown the meat. Cover with three cups of boiling water and simmer slowly for half an hour. Then add two carrots, cut fine. Cook another hour, and then add five potatoes cut in halves. When the potatoes are tender, add a little flour to the gravy. Season with salt, pepper and serve.

Veal Stew.—Take one and a half pounds of shoulder of veal, cut in pieces, put into a saucpan with boiling water, one onion, salt and pepper to taste. When the meat is nearly cooked, put into a saucpan over the fire a piece of butter to fill a tablespoon and a teaspoonful of flour; blend and cook and then add to the veal gravy.

A very nice flavored stew may be prepared by using several kinds of meat, a few chicken bones for flavor, some beef and a little veal.

No Fear.

"The paperhanger is one man who is not worried about his business."

"Why not?"

"Because he rather likes the prospect of its going to the wall."

"Can animals reason?"

"Just you try if a bulldog can hold his own."

Thought for Today

BY MRS. ROBERT M. LAFOLETTE.

OTHER PHASES OF HABIT.

THOSE trying to improve their physical condition, almost always ask, in a spirit of discouragement, "What I keep up this effort for?" A woman starts in to reduce her weight, and to restore the youthful waist line. She diets and walks and works vigorously, taxing her will and nerve to the limit, until she achieves a certain degree of success; then she stops and ever after she tells the depressing story of her experience. "It did no good," she says, "I went right back after I quit dieting, and gained when I left off exercising."

It is not necessary to keep on working tremendously hard forever, but in forming a new habit we must continue our effort and watchfulness for a period of time after the desired result has been obtained in order to fix the modification and make the habit constitutional. How long it will take can only be determined by observation and experience; it may be a few weeks or it may be a year.

Even after the stable point is reached, we must guard against periodicity of habit, of which the occasional "spree" is an example, and against recurrence, which is a common and very important characteristic of habit. We have all observed how a disturbance in physical condition—a change of environment, a fit of illness, will cause a former habit, apparently in no wise related, to reassert itself.

It is as though the nervous force was like a stream of water flowing along a well defined course; a wall is built, it is forced into a new channel; a flood comes and takes away the barrier; it returns to its former course. Those who have conquered lung trouble, indigestion, the flesh habit or other ills, as well as those who have mastered habits of dissipation, must always fortify themselves against the danger of recurrence.

WHITE CHIFFON. Never did debutante find a more fitting frock than the one which I saw recently at an interior's. Its whole air was of that dainty simplicity which one associates with youth and budding hope.

A clinging white chiffon tunic, edged about sleeves neck and hem with a pattern of pearl and crystal bead embroidery and beaded fringes fell over an undersuit of white satin, a grille of the same confining the fullness of the waist.

At the belt were two magnificently

AND SATIN ROSES. Fashioned fullbloom roses of pink satin ribbon with leaves and stems of dull green ribbon. These satin roses were the touch de resistance, imparting that finished air of the perfect creation.

Satin ribbon roses may easily be put together by skillful fingers or purchased ready made in the shops at not so high a price. As the touch of color upon some simple gown, are ideally lovely.

Evelyn Marie Stuart.

CURIOUS BITS OF HISTORY

A DUMPING GROUND FOR JAIL-BIRDS.

By A. W. MACY.

Prior to the revolution England used the American colonies as a dumping-ground for her undesirable citizens. It is estimated that between 1717 and 1775 not less than 50,000 convicts, of all kinds and of both sexes, were taken from the jails of Great Britain and Ireland and transported to the American colonies, where they were condemned to hard labor and hired out to the settlers. The Maryland colony suffered most from the affliction, 20,000 or more of the jail-birds being sent there. Some of them, however, had been convicted of slight offenses, and were easily transformed into good citizens of the new world.

DIET AND HEALTH HINTS

By DR. T. J. ALLEN
Food Specialist

FOOD SHOULD APPEAL TO THE EYE.

The attractiveness of food is largely dependent upon its appeal to the eye, and hence the preference for white rice, which is inferior to the unpollished, containing all the elements of nutrition, and for white bread, which is inferior in nutritive value to the whole wheat. The popularity of the apple and the peach is largely due to their attractive colors, as indicated in the saying, "as pretty as a peach." This should be recognized in the preparation and serving of food, but not unduly in substituting inferior foods because of attractiveness alone.

side. This will either fold one side of a large piece of cloth or both edges of a narrow strip. In either instance the iron passes over the cloth as it is turned down and presses it flat. Where cloth is folded by hand it is impossible to obtain the accurate edge given by this little implement, and the work takes a great deal longer to accomplish.

Baptized in Irrigation Ditch.

Probably for the first time in the history of irrigation a new member of the church was immersed in an irrigation ditch in a baptismal ceremony. Just west of Irrican, in the Canadian Pacific railway's Irrigation block, Alberta, J. B. Culp, a farmer, and also pastor of the Church of the Brethren, officiated at the ceremony, and Mrs. M. Studebaker was the member who embraced the faith and was immersed in the irrigation ditch.

Paper Box Industry Large.

Paper box making, one of the new but very important industries of this country, has made its greatest progress during the last half century, and particularly within the last twenty years, after modern machinery had been introduced. The business has assumed wonderful proportions in New York city, where the capital investment exceeds $5,000,000.

Natural Death Intervened.

A woman's natural death in the act of trying to hang herself formed the subject of an inquest at Liverpool, England, recently. Sarah Stafford, thirty-six, widow of a ship laborer, was found hanging in her bedroom by a belt attached to the rail of the bed, but it was established by medical evidence that she died from heart failure before she could actually commit suicide.

Child's Costly Plaything.

A sixteen-year-old Edinburgh (Scotland) child has had a rare privilege for a day or two of banging about a $500 diamond-studded watch as a plaything. He found it in the street, and neither his father nor his mother dreamed of its value till they saw an advertisement for its recovery.

Jelly Roll Recipe

Only Two Eggs Required

By Mrs. Janet McKenzie Hill, Editor of the Boston Cooking School Magazine

This Jelly Roll is fast becoming very popular on account of the way it keeps fresh. With proper handling it should keep fresh a whole week, providing it isn't eaten up in the meantime, for it is every bit as good as it looks.

K C Jelly Roll

One cup sifted flour; scant half teaspoonful salt; 2 level teaspoonfuls K C Baking Powder; 1 egg; 1 cup sugar; 1/2 cup hot milk; glass of jelly; powdered sugar.

Beat the sugar into the egg; add the lemon rind, then the flour, sifted three times with the salt and baking powder; and, lastly, the milk. Bake in a buttered dripping pan; turn out on a damp cloth, trim off the crisp edges; spread with jelly and turn over and over into a roll while still warm. Dredge the top with powdered sugar.

Hot milk used in the jelly roll enables it to be rolled without danger of cracking. Have the milk scalding hot, also be careful to have the eggs and sugar beaten together until very light and creamy. Bake in a moderate oven.

K C Jelly Roll is illustrated on page thirty-two of the new and handsomely illustrated 64-page K C Cook's Book, which may be secured free by sending the certificate packed in every 25-cent can of K C Baking Powder to the Jacques Mfg. Co., Chicago, Ill.

DON'T BE BALD

Newly-Acquired Growth of Hair.

We have a remedy that has added to grow hair and prevented baldness in 95 out of 100 cases where used according to directions for a reasonable length of time. That may seem like strong statement—it is, and we mean it to be, and no one should doubt it until they have put our claims to an actual test.

We are so certain Rexall "33" Hair Tonic will cure dandruff, prevent baldness, stimulate the scalp and hair roots, stop falling hair and grow new hair, that we personally give our positive guarantee to refund every penny paid us for it in every instance where it does not give entire satisfaction to the user.

Rexall "33" Hair Tonic is as pleasant to use as clear spring water. It is delightfully perfumed, and does not clog or gum the hair. Two sizes, 50c and $1.00. With our guarantee back of it, you certainly take no risk. Sold only at our store—The Rexall Store, The Smith-Drug Co., 14 West Milwaukee St., Janesville, Wis.

Breaking It Gently.
Jim Rice, the coach of the Columbia crew, was praising a stalwart freshman.

"He's so young and tender," said the coach, "you'd never think he could row. Why, they laugh at him at the barbers."

"As he was getting his hair cut the other day he said to the barber wistfully:

"Do you think I'll have a strong beard? My father has a very strong one."

"It looks to me," said the barber, "as though you took after your mother."

When Cleaning Furniture.
When cleaning upholstered furniture it is often either possible or inconvenient to move it outdoors. In such a case place a damp cloth over the place of furniture and then beat it, changing the cloth several times during the process. The dust will adhere to the cloth and will not rise in the room.—Suburban Life.

The Secret.
"Why do you have those glass cases with the ax, hammer, crowbar and so forth on those cars?" asked a traveler.

"Oh, those are put there in case any one wants a window open," replied the facetious man.—Red Men.

Journalism.

Editor (twearily)—Yes. The business manager's wife wants to break into the social set of the president of the pie trust.—Puck.

ACCORDING TO SCHEDULE.

William T. Lewis, the well-known automobilist, was talking lately about the 25,000-mile automobile trip he had just made in Europe.

"One sees Europe in an automobile," he said. "One really sees it. Some tourists don't, you know."

"Once, in Florence, I was standing on the bridge over the Arno, drinking in the beauty of the old Italian city, when a half-dozen American tourists drew near at a quick walk."

"They hurried by me, every now and then consulting their watches, and, as they passed, I overheard this conversation:

"Well, Florence is all right, sure!"

"Florence?"

"Why, yes! This is Florence, ain't it?"

"Of course not. This is Venice."

"Oh, go on! It's Monday, anyhow, and Monday's Florence; Wednesday's Venice."

To Revive the "Beggars' Opera?"
Will not some manager revive for us the "Beggars' Opera?" Or are we so far gone in musical and "lyrical" imbecilities that Guy would not do light us? We all know the name of that comic opera, and most of us know that "How happy I could be with either" is a line from an otherwise forgotten song in it. And there our learning ends. But hear what Henry Heve, himself a wit, says of a revival in 1839: "A charming performance; the language so fine, the dialogue so witty, the music so enchanting. When Polly had done her last song we wished it all to begin over again. 'The Beggars' Opera!' May it last forever!" And who in all England knows one of the enchanting lines that set the eighteenth century whistling through more than half its course?—London Chronicle.

Costly Daily Damage.
Surface cars on Manhattan Island do daily damage to persons and property in the average sum of $250.

Men as Beasts of Burden.
Strong-backed laboring men take the place of moving vans in Mexico. There are huge, flat trucks with four handles into which things are piled and lugged along the city streets. On moving day the household furniture may be seen paraded in full gaze of the curious from street to street to the new destination. These men are called cargadores, and combine the usefulness of the messenger boy and the porter of the Old World. The great burdens borne thus by the strength of a single carrier are amazing. A piano will be carried along by two men on one of the strong trucks.

Thrifty New Yorkers.
